The data contained in this Certificate of Analysis (COA) are preliminary and have not yet completed full technical review and Quality Assurance approval. Values, specifications, and interpretations are therefore subject to change. These results should not be relied upon for product release, regulatory reporting, labeling, or any other decision-making that requires finalized, validated data. A revised COA bearing an authorized sign will be issued once all verification steps are complete; only that document should be considered the official, final record.
